

The Power of Inclusion: Universal Design in Landscape

A presentation by

Karen Braitmayer, FAIA & Debra Guenther, FASLA, LEED AP BD+C

Tuesday, November 15, 2016 • 2:00-4:00 p.m.

Seattle Municipal Tower 4050/4060

700 5th Avenue, between Columbia & Cherry in downtown Seattle

The Northwest Universal Design Council and community partners invite you to “The Power of Inclusion: Universal Design in Landscape,” a presentation by architects Karen Braitmayer of Karen Braitmayer Accessible Design and Accessibility Consulting and Debra Guenther of Mithun. Karen and Deb will discuss the role of landscape design in improving accessibility and “visitability.” By incorporating the principles of Universal Design into landscape design, people are encouraged to fully participate in the indoor and outdoor environment.

Karen Braitmayer

This presentation is free and open to the public, coordinated by the Northwest Universal Design Council and co-sponsored by the Seattle Commission for People with disAbilities, Seattle Human Services Department, and Aging and Disability Services.

Debra Guenther

CART captioning will be provided. RSVP and/or request other accommodations at <https://goo.gl/OVRaAn>.

City of Seattle
 Mayor Ed Murray
 Commission for People with disAbilities
 Human Services Department

The Northwest Universal Design Council (NWUDC) promotes incorporation of Universal Design principles, products, and processes in the built environment so that all people can “live actively by design,” regardless of age or ability. The NWUDC is supported by the Seattle Human Services Department/Aging and Disability Services, the Area Agency on Aging for Seattle-King County (www.agingkingcounty.org). For more information, e-mail info@environmentsforall.org.

www.environmentsforall.org